

What Is Quality of Life?

Sunday, 03 December 2006

It is NOT owning a BMW car or buying the latest Japanese electronics.

For some people it is owning that BMW car
but ONLY if you are being able to enjoy the car.
Without the stress of it being Stolen, Vandalized or Clamped.

For everyone

It is walking down any street after dark
Without fear, whatever Age, Gender or Race.

It is knowing you Belong to Society and that Society Values your contribution.

It is Peace of Mind

People want and more importantly psychologically need to Belong to Society. When in the UK, I cross the road and dodge the traffic like everyone else, as this is the norm.

When in Germany wait for the red light, even if there is no traffic coming.

That German society, Despite there being NO punishment is imposing itself successfully on me an individual to conform to its norm.

Therefore it is no laws but Shame! which is required.
This also applies to those who use our laws for their own purpose whether that is to:
Gather Revenue
Pervert the Course of Justice
Restrict Freedom.
